President's messageZdravo/Greetings!

*“O hushed October morning mild,
Begin the hours of this day slow.
Make the day to us seem less brief.”*

--Robert Frost, (1874-1963)

I am most pleased to welcome John Clark, Senior Fellow at the Sagamore Institute for Policy Research, as guest speaker on October 10. John has a very comprehensive view of how the world affects our lives in central Indiana and invites others to engage in public discussion of contemporary issues. To find what “glocalization” is, please check out <http://indybuzz.blogspot.com/2005/09/oct-10-global-communities-local.html>

Our sense of the global community will be stimulated and enhanced by John’s presentation. Come on down and bring a friend!

Please note: The October 10 NCI meeting will be the final meeting before the November 3-6 International Festival. Any questions your organization may have about comp passes, booth space and other procedures will be addressed. Festival time draws near.....

Hope to see you October 8 at City Market for the Race for All Races and on October 10.

Mir,
Josef
Josef M. Laposa
